VELMA WEST IS SENTENCED TO LIFE IMPRISONMENT

WOMAN IS FOUND HANGING IN HER HOME IN SALEM

Son and Brother Discover Body of Mrs. Cornelia Stallman, 48

ILL HEALTH IS BLAMED FOR DEED

Woman Had Been Dead Several Hours When Body Was Found

Using the cord of her electric iron Mrs. Cornelia Stallman, 48, hanged herself in her bedroom in her home at 250 Roosevelt ave. sometime Monday afternoon.

The body was discovered by her son, Henry, and her brother, John Brandt, after both searched the house for her and noticed her bedroom door was locked.

Urged to get the door open the brother and son procured a ladder, climbed in the bedroom window and discovered the body hanging from the door. The woman had wrapped the cord around the hinges and had strangled herself to death. She was hanging so low that she could have saved herself had she chosen.

Nothing Unusual at Noon
Another son, Carl, came home at noon and ate lunch with his mother. He said that nothing unusual about his mother's actions was apparent then. The family found that she had stacked the lunch dishes, and apparently had gone immediately upstairs and committed suicide. It was after Brandt had come home from work late in the afternoon that the discovery of the body was made.

A physician was called, but he said that death had occurred quite a while before. It is believed that she was hanging all afternoon because the body was nearly cold when found.

Carl Stallman attributes her act to ill health. He said she had not been in the best of health for some time.

Husband Killed
This is the second tragedy in this family in half a decade. On Dec. 27, 1922, Ida Stallman, husband of the dead woman, died of injuries sustained when he fell from a silo at Woodsdale.

Mrs. Stallman was a native of Holland. After her husband's death, she and her family came to Salem to live in September, 1926. She was a member of the Methodist church at Winona.

Surviving are three children, Carl and Henry, at home, and Mrs. Eddie Walton, Woodsdale; three brothers, two in Holland and John Brandt here; two sisters in Holland; and her father, Karl Brandt, of near Amsterdam, Holland.

The body was taken to the Arbaugh funeral home where friends may view it until Wednesday morning, when it will be taken to the former home at Woodsdale.

Rev. C. F. Evans of Salem will have charge of the funeral service at Woodsdale church at 2 p.m. Interment in the cemetery there.

SHELL SHOCK IS CHISHOLM PLEA

Man Who threw Sons Into Canal Suffers From War Horrors

Indiana Harbor, Ind., March 6.—The horrors of Vimy Ridge and the Somme will be held responsible for the tragic plight of George Allen Chisholm, Canadian World war veteran, when he is brought to trial for the slaying of his two sons, George, 9, and Edgar, 7, his attorneys announced today.

Chisholm, who confessed that he had buried his little sons into the Indiana Harbor ship canal, being driven to the act by the persistent "nagging" of his common-law wife, was arraigned yesterday in the city court at East Chicago, Ind., and pleaded "not guilty."

He waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the grand jury. Before the brief court session, Chisholm had appeared at the coroner's inquest, but refused to testify. He fainted once during the proceedings.

His attorneys declared that "shell shock" would form the basis of their defense. Chisholm was at Vimy Ridge in April, 1917. He was shell-shocked and spent four months in a hospital. Then he was discharged as cured, returning to fight in the second battle of the Somme.

LAME DUCK BAN REACHES HOUSE AFTER 5 YEARS

Move to Abolish These Sessions Expected To Be Adopted

WOULD PROVIDE 20TH AMENDMENT

Opposition Is Expected To Develop From Two Sources

Washington, March 6.—The Norris-White resolution for a constitutional amendment abolishing "lame duck" sessions of congress and changing the date of presidential inaugurations reached the floor of the house today after a five-year struggle by its backers.

Passed by the senate in every congress since 1925, house leaders have refused to permit its consideration on the floor until this session. Its adoption is expected.

Powerful forces, including both conservatives and progressives were leading the fight for the resolution. Ratification by the states would make it the 20th constitutional amendment.

Burton Takes Lead

Rep. Burton (R), of Ohio and Rep. Garrett of Tennessee, the Democratic floor leader, took the offensive in the first phase of the legislative battle, the granting of a special rule for consideration.

Both declared that the amendment was necessary to make congress more responsive to the will of the people, by changing the date of presidential inaugurations from March 4 to January 20 and sending congress into session on January 4 each year—two months after election.

Under the present system, they pointed out, a congressman elected the next March 4 but does not actually enter Congress until the next December. In the meantime the "short session" of congress is in action, including members who have just been defeated at the polls.

Opposition Expected

Opposition to the plan before the house was expected to come from two sources. Those favoring the original resolution of Senator Norris (R), of Nebraska, objected to the substitution of the language of the resolution of Rep. White (R), of Kansas in the senate measure.

"I believe it is a good thing for a member to be delayed 13 months in taking office after election. By that time the heat of the campaign has cooled and many rash promises are forgotten."

Financial reports of classes and organizations were given, as follows:

Athletic association, $555.22; Senior class, $157.04; Junior class, $446; Sophomore class, $113; "The Quaker," $332.97; the Salernasque drama club, $28.50.

Says Loeb, Leonold 'Have It Soft'

St. Louis, March 6.—John Freeman, released two weeks ago after serving 18 years in the Joliet penitentiary, appealed to the police here for food and work.

Freeman was asked how Loeb and Leopold, thrill slayers of Bobbie Frank, were getting along.

"Just like anybody with money," he replied. "They have it pretty soft. Money will buy you anything—in or out of prison."

GUARD STATION FROM BOMBERS

Bombing Threat Received As "L" Workers Prepare to Strike

New York, March 6.—Six special policemen were placed on guard to day at the Times Square subway station following receipt of two letters suggesting that the threatened strike of subway and elevated workers would be hastened if the station were bombed.

Although police expressed the belief that the letters were written by harmless cranks, every precaution was taken.

Meanwhile hope of averting the strike waned. Unless the Interborough Rapid Transit company changes its attitude and agrees to arbitrate its differences with the Amalgamated Association of Street and Railway employees, the workers are expected to vote to strike at a meeting tonight.

The employees threaten to strike because the Interborough has refused to re-instate 21 workers who were suspended in defiance of the company's rule.

Major James J. Walker, who suggested arbitration, today had given up all hope of averting the strike.

Name Delegates To District Meeting

A district meeting of the Knights of Columbus will be held next Sunday afternoon at East Liverpool and at a meeting of the Salem council Monday evening. Three delegates were chosen to represent it at this meeting. They are: John Enten, Lawrence Reasbeck and Stephen Gonda.

Four applications for membership were received at this session. This council has formed a four team bowling league among its members and the first game in the league will be played Friday evening at Sebring.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

Mayor Hiddeson has suggested a way out of the problem of increasing the city fire department's personnel without much cost to the city. It is a novel plan, and yet it is practical enough to meet, in part at least, the demands of manufacturers that more firemen be employed to give adequate protection to the industrial section of the city. The mayor would have each of the two volunteer fire companies assign one member to night duty, the city providing these two volunteers with sleeping quarters in city hall. The plan would necessitate the expenditure of a slight sum to make alterations on the second floor of city hall for additional beds. Otherwise it would cost the city little or nothing, and the fire department would have the services of two more men in case of a fire at night.

Cooperation of the volunteer companies is another requisite, but the proposal should appeal to them, for it has advantage over the present plan of volunteer service. It does not meet entirely the request of the manufacturers who believe even more men should be added to the department. It is an excellent compromise, however, at a time when the city can ill afford to pay full-time wages for six or eight firemen in addition to the present force. It is a plan, also, that may be enlarged upon later, for it has great possibilities for development, once it is inaugurated.

Speaking of innovations, the mayor set another precedent Monday when he gave a traffic law violator the opportunity of joining the motor club to save himself a fine of $5.00. By that action the mayor demonstrated what has long been the contention of The News—that mere fines in traffic violations do no particular good, unless the accused is taught a lesson that will make him think more, instead of less, about traffic rules. The mayor did this man a favor, for he will receive more benefits from his membership than he pays in dues, but incidentally he did other motorists a greater favor than he would have by fining this man, for through his club membership the offender will come to appreciate more fully his obligations as an automobile driver and consequently will give more heed to traffic regulations wherever he may be driving.

Mayor Hiddeson has introduced several innovations in the administration of the city government, and he may be expected to introduce many more before his term expires. But he means business and, knowing where he is going, he fully expects to get there.

LESS BEAUTIFUL WOMEN

Abel G. Warshawsky, American artist who has been painting and sketching for 20 years, says that in all that time he has found only four "perfect women" and that today he finds American women losing their beauty.

Without knowing precisely what he means by "perfect" and "beautiful," one would be foolish to fly into a passion at the artist's cruel judgment.

It has been rather commonly told that perfection, even in beauty, was more of an ideal than an attainment in this world. And as for human beauty, that has never yet been so clearly standardized that all the world agrees on what it is.

We suspect the artist has some technical meaning which makes his statement clear to fellow artists and leaves everyone else free to enjoy feminine beauty according to personal preferences.

MARY DAVIES, HEROINE

To the world it may not mean much to hear that Mary Davies, Welsh bacteriologist, daughter of Sir R. H. Davies, former lieutenant governor of the Punjab, has just died at Cannes, France. But Mary Davies was nonetheless one of the unsung heroines of the World War. In 1915, Miss Davies was acting as a nurse in the American hospital at Neuilly, outside Paris. At the same hospital a prominent bacteriologist of the Imperial Cancer Research committee was conducting experiments with guinea pigs in an effort to find a cure for gas gangrene, from which thousands of soldiers were dying in those first years of the war. The doctor was finding it difficult to obtain an uncomplicated case of the disease which would make it possible to determine the efficacy of his cure for a human being. Aware of the situation, Miss Davies made no preliminary announcement, but took a room close to the hospital, sent for the doctor and quietly informed him that she had inoculated herself with the same culture as that used on the guinea pigs. A few hours later symptoms of gas gangrene appeared, a pure case of the disease. Whereupon the doctor inoculated Miss Davies with a quinine preparation, upon which he was depending. Within 24 hours the patient was out of danger and the remedy had been proven successful. There is no available record of the number of soldiers who were later cured by the same treatment of the quinine preparation. Miss Davies was never immortalized; we have not even the information that she was ever decorated with a medal for bravery. Yet to those who know her story, she will stand as one of the courageous souls who have been willing to give life for the advancement of medical science and the betterment of the human race. —Detroit Free Press.

CHANCE-TAKERS

A sad commentary on the good judgment of the human race is contained in the announcement just made by the New Haven railroad that beginning today a summons will be served on any person getting off or on a train while it is in motion. So many accidents have occurred recently because of this practice that the railroad has been forced to take legal steps to save its patrons' lives, and at the same time point out that one of the weaknesses of the human being is a lack of good common sense.

Most persons love life and would not think of placing it in jeopardy, but the streak of bad judgment comes to the front in rushing to catch a train at a station in the same way that it does when a motorist tries to beat a train at grade crossing, although bells are ringing and gates are down to give warning of approaching danger.

It is almost impossible to legislate judgment into persons who lack it to the extent of gambling with their own lives, and consequently the action of the railroad is not likely to bring effective results. Commuters to New York and other points will doubtless be willing to take as much chance with the law as they do with their expectation of a long life and a healthy one.—Washington Star.

CURING BABY'S ILLS BY PROPER FEEDING

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
When a baby develops highly-colored urine, or urine of strong odor, it should create the suspicion that insufficient water is being given. The body wastes cannot be dissolved and cared for as they should be without an abundance of this fluid.

Constipation is a common symptom in infants. It is likely to be made much worse by the failure to give lots of water.

The great cause for constipation in a baby, as in an adult, is improper feeding.

The diet may not contain enough sugar.

Or there may be too much fat.

There may be another cause, overfeeding.

Any one of these factors plays a part in producing constipation.

Wrong feeding is responsible for all manner of digestive symptoms. It is not uncommon for some mothers to give the breast every time the baby is fretful. Such practice is fatal to the infant's welfare because it upsets the digestion. One of the symptoms which may result in constipation.

It is a mistake to permit constipation to continue. If it does, the bowel gradually dilates. It loses elasticity and normal muscular action. In the nature of things, this condition will make the constipation permanent.

It is a curse to anybody, infant or adult, to permit the rectum to become a slave to cathartics and other drugs. The natural means of promoting bowel action are far better. Diet and plenty of water should be all the treatment and prevention needed.

In extreme cases, as I have said recently about the constipation of adults, mineral oil may be given. It is not absorbed; it acts merely to lubricate the bowel. This remedy is better than drugs. But proper feeding is better still.

When there is an actual accumulation in the lower bowels, may be

It is probable that there may be much dislocation or moving about, with restlessness and agitation in business as well as personal affairs. The latter, especially as applied to domestic and affectional attachments, may assume irregular or disquieting phases. Conservatism and prudence are entreated.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of opportunity in new directions, with a degree of success, especially through tact and skillful manipulations, but matters generally are under adverse conditions. Be careful and direct your personal affairs, lest there be sentimental import. A child born on this day may have talents of an original nature but may be restless and nervous, with inclination to frequent change. It may succeed best through diplomacy or stratagem.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

Mayor Hiddeson has suggested a way out of the problem of increasing the city fire department's personnel without much cost to the city. It is a novel plan, and yet it is practical enough to meet, in part at least, the demands of manufacturers that more firemen be employed to give adequate protection to the industrial section of the city. The mayor would have each of the two volunteer fire companies assign one member to night duty, the city providing these two volunteers with sleeping quarters in city hall. The plan would necessitate the expenditure of a slight sum to make alterations on the second floor of city hall for additional beds. Otherwise it would cost the city little or nothing, and the fire department would have the services of two more men in case of a fire at night.

Cooperation of the volunteer companies is another requisite, but the proposal should appeal to them, for it has advantage over the present plan of volunteer service. It does not meet entirely the request of the manufacturers who believe even more men should be added to the department. It is an excellent compromise, however, at a time when the city can ill afford to pay full-time wages for six or eight firemen in addition to the present force. It is a plan, also, that may be enlarged upon later, for it has great possibilities for development, once it is inaugurated.

CURING BABY'S ILLS BY PROPER FEEDING

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.

When a baby develops highly-colored urine, or urine of strong odor, it should create the suspicion that insufficient water is being given. The body wastes cannot be dissolved and cared for as they should be without an abundance of this fluid.

Constipation is a common symptom in infants. It is likely to be made much worse by the failure to give lots of water.

The great cause for constipation in a baby as in an adult, is improper feeding. The diet may not contain enough sugar. Or there may be too much fat. Or there may be another cause, overfeeding. Any one of these factors plays a part in producing constipation.

Wrong feeding is responsible for all manner of digestive symptoms. It is not uncommon for some mothers to give the breast every time the baby is fretful. Such practice is fatal to the infant's welfare because it upsets the digestion. One of the symptoms which may result in constipation is

It is a mistake to permit constipation to continue. If it does, the bowel gradually dilates. It loses elasticity and normal muscular action. In the nature of things, this condition will make the constipation permanent.

It is a curse to anybody, infant or adult, to permit the rectum to become a slave to cathartics and other drugs. The natural means of promoting bowel action are far better. Diet and plenty of water should be all the treatment and prevention needed.

In extreme cases, as I have said recently about the constipation of adults, mineral oil may be given. It is not absorbed; it acts merely to lubricate the bowel. This remedy is better than drugs. But proper feeding is better still.

When there is an actual accumulation in the lower bowels, may be

Delby was paroled from the Mansfield Reformatory last year, following his conviction of the theft of an automobile.

Sentence Suspended

Ralph Brooks of Leetonia, employed at Alliance, is being held in the county jail in default of $300 bond required by Juvenile Judge Lodge Riddle to pay $10 each week for the support of his two minor children. A three months' sentence to the Canton workhouse has been suspended by the court in the case in the event that Brooks furnishes bond.

Ventimiglia was sentenced by Federal Judge Paul Jones late yesterday after a jury deliberating 15 minutes found him guilty of the charge of transporting a stolen automobile from Cleveland to Pittsburgh where he sold it to a relative.

The defendant was, according to Assistant United States District Attorney Donald C. Van Buren, "the pivot about which revolved a large automobile ring working throughout northern Ohio and into Pennsylvania as far as Pittsburgh."

Chicago, March 6.—Where do the styles come from?

The Rue de la Paix? Bond St?

Fifth Ave? No.

"Hitherto," began the ponderous opus issued here by the National Association of Retail Clothiers, it has been assumed that styles come from Paris for women and from London for men. This is only true of foreclosures and an order of sale has been entered in this action by the court.

Decree of Partition

A sale has been confirmed, a deed ordered and a decree of partition entered in the case of Ethel L.

Gilbert against Emily D. Howell and in a minor sense of the word. Styles are governed primarily in America by what the average man and woman wishes. The extreme styles of Paris and London find little favor in the average American home.

"Clothers make clothes to conform with what person in small towns and cities wish. Only special garments are made up from the styles of Paris and London."

Cleveland, March 6.—Joseph Ventimiglia, proprietor of a local restaurant, today stood sentenced to eight years in the Atlanta federal prison and fined $5,000, possibly the heaviest punishment ever imposed on this federal district, according to United States District Attorney A. E. Bernstein, for interstate transportation of a stolen automobile.

VELMA POSES

"I'll have company at Marysville and won't be alone in a cell like I am here. I know it will be nice. And I'll have a chance to work that will keep my mind occupied."

One of the reporters suggested she get off lucky, remarking:

"See what Mrs. Snyder got."

"Oh my case is not a parallel to hers," declared Velma.

"Your case is worse," interrupted a girl reporter. Velma made no reply.

Velma would not say that she was happy but she did say she was not dejected and she thought things had turned out well, everything considered.

"I never will marry again," she remarked at one point in the interview.

Velma hoped the court would grant the request of her attorneys that she be allowed to go to the "honeymoon bungalow" at Perry, where she beat her husband to death with a hammer, so she could obtain her personal belongings and her banjo-ukelele.

Detroit, March 6—Eddie Stinson, World war flier and George Haldeman, trans-Atlantic aviator, failed to take off this morning in an attempt to establish a new endurance record when one wheel of their plane crashed through the ice of Lake St. Clair.

The aviators sent to the Stinson Airplane company for a new wheel and a new propeller and will make another attempt to hop off late today.

Body of Man Found Slain May Be Miner

Pittsburgh, March 6—The body of an unidentified white man, his head crushed, was found in a cemetery near Russellton today by county detectives, after a woman informed authorities she had heard a man pleading to be "let alone" that he was "not a scab."

The man is believed by authorities to be a victim of the mine war which raged in the district since Russellton mine No. 2 of the Republican Iron and Steel company, was opened non-union a month ago.

VELMA WEST

the silver-haired kindly-faced judge in tones a father would use in addressing his daughter.

"No sir, I have not," replied Velma, her hands nervously clasping and unclasping a handkerchief.

Judge's Explanation

Then with Velma and Attorney Poulsom standing before him the Judge launched into an explanation of his position before he announced his sentence.

"This matter of your being allowed to plead guilty to murder in the second degree did not come up suddenly," Judge Barnes said, speaking to Velma.

"It had been discussed by lawyers for both sides in chambers yesterday. The lawyers took the matter up with the court and asked what they should do under the circumstances.

"We went over the matter thoroughly. I also conferred with Judge A. G. Reynolds (the judge who presided at Velma's arraignment.)

Mandate of Law

"This court and Judge Reynolds came to the conclusion that in view of the evidence the state could not expect to get a conviction of higher than murder in the second degree.

"I don't think this is the time for talking about this case. The community knows all about it. It has had its regrettable aspects. The mandate of the law is the most positive of all and that mandate has to be fulfilled."

"Never before in my career as a judge have I sentenced a woman in a case of this kind."

Velma's Lips Twitch

"The law says that the punishment for second degree murder shall be confinement in the reformatory for women for the rest of your natural life. That is the sentence the court imposes upon you."

Velma's lips twitched and she seemed to collapse. When she returned to her seat, the matron, Mrs. Cora Nash, patted her soothingly on the shoulder. Then her father came over and they cried softly together, the father's arm around his daughter's slim shoulders.

Mother Not In Court

Van Woert remained with Velma until they escorted her back through a tunnel to her cell in the little red jail back of the courthouse. She will remain in this cell until she is taken to the reformatory at Marysville, O.

Velma's mother was not in the courtroom when sentence was passed. She is ill in her home in Cleveland and was unable to come to court this morning. Her husband telephoned her and told her how Velma accepted the verdict.

"It was the best thing under the circumstances," said the father. "I certainly am going through hell."

Attorney Poulsom said he doubted whether Mrs. Van Woert would live had the case gone to trial and all the lurid details been brought out.

He said Velma might not have been able to stand the ordeal, either.

"I'm happy over the outcome," said Poulsom. "It was the best thing to do after all the muck that has been brought out."

Sudden End is Surprise

Prosecutor Paulin had no comment to make, asserting that what transpired in court spoke for itself.

The sudden termination of the case was a surprise and Painesville was seething with speculation as to the reasons that prompted the state to accept the lesser plea. Velma had been indicted on the charge of murder in the first degree and had she been tried by a jury and convicted she might possibly have been sent to the electric chair. As it is now, she is eligible to parole after serving 10 years in the reformatory.

Killed in "Bling Rage"

It was exactly three months ago today that 21-year-old Velma, then only 18 months married, brutally killed her husband, T. Edward West, son of a nationally known nurseryman, in their honeymoon bungalow at Perry, Ohio.

She killed him in a "blind rage" when he refused to drive her to Cleveland to an all-girl bridge party at the home of Miss Mabel Young, a stenographer.

One of the reporters suggested she got off lucky, remarking:

"See what Mrs. Snyder got."

"Oh my case is not a parallel to hers," declared Velma.

"Your case is worse," interrupted a girl reporter. Velma made no reply.

BRITAIN MASSES MANY PLANES TO ATTACK TRIBES

London, March 6—Great Britain has massed 45 bombing planes, 12 smaller military airplanes, many armored cars and tanks at Iraq to meet attacks by desert tribesmen, according to word from Basra this afternoon.

Most of the planes, armored cars and tanks are concentrated at Koweit, where the British cruiser Emerald and several smaller warcraft are anchored.

The declaration of Ibn Saud, the Wahab king, that he has turned against the British and will aid the tribesmen is not taken very seriously in British official circles. Officials said they believed that the speech to the sheiks of the desert tribesmen was for home political effect.

DISCUSS OFFER OUTLAWING WAR

America's Proposal Gets Much Attention At Geneva Parley

Geneva, March 6—Private discussions of America's proposals for a general treaty outlawing war are almost overshadowed everything else among the delegates to the League of Nations council meeting today.

The object of the meeting was to discuss the latest treaty note sent by Secretary of State Kellogg, of the United States, to France. This note is of especial importance because it touched upon the resolution adopted by the Pan American conference at Havana, pledging the American

Charge Kent Mayor Released Prisoners

Cleveland, March 6.—An undercover federal prohibition agent was in Kent, O., today, according to federal authorities here, investigating charges made in four affidavits sent to United States District Attorney A. E. Bernstein, that Mayor Norman A. Seal of Kent, had released two men accused of violating the prohibition law.

According to a report from Kent, Mayor Seal denied any connection with the case and said papers against the alleged offenders are on file with Probate Judge Robinson of Portage county, from whom a warrant for their arrest was obtained.

They base their claim on the fact that two of the six sons of Anneke Jans Borgardus, who died in 1963, refused to sign papers dividing part of the Borgardus farm to Col. Lovelace, British governor of Manhattan Island in pre-Revolutionary days.

75 Liquor Revenue Tax Suits Dropped

T. B. CAMPAIGN IS UNDER WAY

Early Diagnosis Of This Disease Is Object; County Aids

With the first of March opened the nation-wide campaign for the early diagnosis of tuberculosis which is being conducted through March by the National Tuberculosis Association and affiliated organizations.

The Ohio Public Health Association in co-operation with the state department of health and the Ohio Tuberculosis conference is directing the state campaign. Locally the Columbian County Public Health League is in charge.

Tuberculosis caused 460 fewer deaths in Ohio in 1927 than in 1926 according to I. C. Plummer, registrar of vital statistics. This sets a new death rate. 6,093 citizens of Ohio died from tuberculosis in 1926; 4,623 in 1927.

However, Dr. Robert H. Bishop, Jr., of Cleveland, president of the Ohio Public Health Association, points out that more than 4,000 deaths in one year from a preventable disease leaves the state no room for self-congratulation.

A large majority of those who died from tuberculosis last year did not even know they had the disease until it had reached an advanced state. If they could have commenced the cure early enough most of them would still be living.

Dr. Bishop declares and adds that it is for the purpose of discovering those who now have tuberculosis in its earliest stages that the early diagnosis campaign is being held.

In a number of counties the March meeting of the county medical society is being devoted to a discussion of methods of early diagnosis. Through the state department of health a motion picture entitled, "The Doctor Decides" is being shown and tuberculosis specialists are serving as speakers. At different theaters and at special meetings a short film for laymen, "Delay is Dangerous" will be shown in connection with the campaign.

Fish pamphlets will be distributed during the month outlining the early symptoms of tuberculosis. Two sets of posters are being displayed. One, said to be the best poster on tuberculosis ever designed, was drawn by Ernest Hamlin Baker and portrays a correctly conducted chest examination. The other, lettered by F. G. Cooper, famous designer of war posters, sets the keynote of the campaign with its message, "You may have tuberculosis. Watch for these danger signs: Too easily tired; loss of weight; indigestion; cough that hangs on. Let your doctor decide."

URGE GOVERNOR SIFT GAMBLING

Minute Men of Akron Say
Vice Is Prevalent
In Rubber City

Columbus, March 6.—Claiming that "prevalence of vice, particularly of gambling resorts, in Akron, apparently under protection, has become alarming to the citizens of Akron who wish to avoid a situation of organized vice such as existed recently in Canton, Ohio," members of Akron regiment No. 1, Division of Ohio, Minute Men of America, have petitioned Gov. Vic Donahay to conduct an investigation.

The petition was signed by P. S. Hinman, as colonel of the regiment; C. E. Landis, adjutant, and J. D. Mallin, financial officer.

Announcement was made at the governor's office that Donahay will mail a copy of the petition to Mayor G. Lloyd Weil of Canton and to the Summit county sheriff and will send to the signers of the petition a copy of the Ohio law known as the Bender act, which provides for presentation of a petition to the common pleas court by persons seeking removal of a sheriff, mayor or other public officials on alleged grounds of failure to properly enforce the laws.

The Bender act decrees that such a petition shall be signed by not less than 10 per cent of the electors of the community, or not less than 10 voters nor more than 1,000 electors.

Rep. Porter (R), of Pennsylvania, chairman, cast the deciding vote.

Opposition to the resolution was based on the ground it would not accomplish nothing and might offend some European powers.

DR. CLEMENT FACES QUIZ IN BROWN MURDER

New York, March 6.—"Dr." Louis Clement, who surrendered to police yesterday for questioning in the investigation of the murder of Miss Margaret Brown, was to be confronted today by Mrs. Emily Miller, friend of the slain governess.

Shortly before Miss Brown was burned alive on a lonely New Jersey road, Mrs. Miller saw her in the company of Dr. Clemens or Clement. When he surrendered, Clement declared he knew nothing about the murder of Miss Brown, and wanted to be cleared of all suspicion. He presented a shabby appearance, and said he was "broke" and out of a job.

While police believe he will be cleared of suspicion in the torch murder, Clement was locked up on charges preferred by Mrs. Theresa Flower Van Norden. She claims he married and deserted her, taking with him jewelry valued at $600. Police said Clement admitted the woman's charges, and confessed he had pawned the jewelry.

Stage Set For Police Benefit Boxing Show Wednesday Night

PROMOTER SAYS FANS HERE WILL GET REAL TREAT

Local Committee Expects Crowded House Will Greet Boxers

CARR MEETS FAY IN MAIN BATTLE

Flyweights, Lightweights And Light Heavies In Other Bouts

The stage is set and all arrangements are complete for the city's first public boxing show in several years at Memorial building auditorium Wednesday night.

Matchmaker Matt Branson and the committee acting for the police department, under whose auspices the show is being staged, predict a real treat in the way ofistic entertainment, and a full house probably will greet the boxers when they appear in the ring.

Representatives of the army and navy will meet to settle a grudge in the main bout of ten rounds. Sergeant Fay, the Fort Raleigh Kan., welter, takes on Sailor Sam Carr, of Cleveland, in this main scrap. Both boys are due in here in the morning, after final workouts today in Cleveland gyms.

The Preliminaries

The show will start at 8:30 p.m. with a curtain raiser of six rounds between Mickey Darlin, of Ashtabula, and Young Charr, of Cleveland, both flyweights. Indications point to a rousing fight in this first bout as both lads are out after a record.

Two lightweights, Jimmy Davis, the Philadelphia ice man, and Tony Barber, of Cleveland, are due to mix it up in the six round preliminary. Davis is a finalist in many shows, and adds a big name to the card.

For the first time in a public show here two light heavyweights are to meet. Arvin Spence, the Cleveland lad with a murderous sock in either mitt, will fight Bobo Leonard, of Philadelphia, Pa., in the semi-final of six rounds.

Main Bout of 10 Rounds

The main bout is scheduled to go ten rounds, but from the amount of talk along cauliflower alley, Fay and Carr are going in to clean up with a kaya as soon as possible.

Carr, the favorite, was licked by Fay in a close fight at Ashland recently. This has been irking the sailor ever since, and he has been living on nothing ever since but thoughts of how he is going to return the favor to the sarge.

The Ashland Times Gazette has the following to say about that fight on Feb. 2:

"Sergeant Fay came into his own last night as one of the most popular boxers ever to show in Ashland. He received an actual ovation when he entered the ring and added to his popularity after he was in there by getting the decision over Sailor Sam Carr in eight rounds."

Young Stribling To Meet Chuck Wiggins

Cleveland, March 6.—William L. Young Stribling, of Macon, Ga., and Charles (Chuck) Wiggins, Indianapolis, are booked to meet in a 12 round bout here tonight. Wiggins arrived here last week to complete his training, and Stribling, accompanied by his mother, flew from Miami, Fla.

The Georgia heavyweight has become interested in aviation and intends to open a flying school at Macon soon, according to "Pa" Stribling, his manager.

Columbiana Cage Teams Have Fairly Successful Season

Columbiana, March 6.—Columbiana High school basketball teams have closed fairly successful seasons, everything considered, although the record of games won and lost is not so impressive.

Coach Miller's boys won eight out of 17 played, while the girls under Coach Barbe's supervision broke even, their record being eight out of sixteen.

Both teams at various times during the season were crippled by illness, necessitating constantly changing line-ups. This was especially true of the boys' team. Gerald Miller missed several games at the beginning of the season and was hardly up to his playing standard throughout the season, although he was one of Coach Miller's most dependable players and was acting captain in the games he played.

Six Will Graduate

About the time the team started "I'm Through," says Dempsey, Referring To Bout With Gene

San Diego, Calif., March 6.—"I'm through."

These words, spoken as though he meant them, came from the lips of Jack Dempsey, addressed to a group of friends at the Tia Juana race track clubhouse where Dr. Wilson, a horse of which he is part owner, had won the Tia Juana derby.

Quotations regarding the heavyweight fight situation, Dempsey said he realizes that Rickard is hard put to find an opponent for Gene Tunney, who has been guaranteed a large sum of money for a match this summer.

Contenders appear to be mighty scarce right now. It would seem that Rickard is somewhat worried for want of a man, who, matched with the champion, will draw a big gate.

"But so far as I am concerned, there will be no fight, for I am definitely through," he concluded.

Organize to Bring Olympic Games In 1932 to Los Angeles

Los Angeles, March 6.—The California Tenth Olympiad association, a non-profit co-operative organization, has been incorporated to promote and direct the Olympic games in Los Angeles in 1932, it was announced today.

Twenty-seven well known California business men, 20 of them from Los Angeles and seven from other sections of the state, are among the incorporators who met at the club to set the machinery in motion for the Tenth Olympiad when the State of California will be host to the athletic representatives from nearly every nation of the world.

Plan Skirmish Line In War On Insects

Scouts, outposts and vedettes in the war against insect pests of fruits in Ohio, will shortly take their posts for the opening of the spring campaign. An elaborate service of information on spraying times, for the benefit of Ohio fruit growers, functioned successfully last year and is to go into action again this spring, according to announcement from the extension specialists of the department of botany of the Ohio State University.

According to the plan of organization, which is based upon that used last year, three or four men from the department of botany and plant pathology of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station will be stationed at strategic points in southern Ohio, and later will move north through the other sections of the state, with the season.

To determine approximately the time when these men should reach their stations, one or two growers from various counties will send sample of old scabby apple tree leaves to the state university for observation.

The specialists in the field will watch for the emergence of the pests into the open, where they can be reached and killed by spray, and will broadcast this information to fruit growers in each section of the state through letters, telephone calls, and the radio.

The specialists in the field will watch for the emergence of the pests into the open, where they can be reached and killed by spray, and will broadcast this information to fruit growers in each section of the state through letters, telephone calls, and the radio.

It was found last year that by this service much time and expense was wasted in spraying at the wrong time, can be saved, and a more complete clean-up of insect pests can be made.

MOVIES

"STUDENT PRINCE"

In a massive filmization of the celebrated old romance of Heidelberg and the prince who sought happiness there, Ramon Novarro and Norma Shearer come to the Grand tonight. The picture is called "The Student Prince" and is the latest super-production to come from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

Ernst Lubitsch, the director, has treated this most beautiful of love stories in a tender and romantic fashion. It is just a simple plot of a boy and girl, an unhappy prince and his pathetic sweetheart, a maid in the village inn, but they love with a devotion that is greater than royal traditions, greater than life itself, and then because society is what it is and because youth was made for sacrifice, they part.

Thousands of people appear in brilliant court functions, coronation festivities and other huge detail. Replicas of famous castles, the old university of Heidelberg—and, in fact, even entire towns constructed for the picture, are among its lavish settings.

The cast includes Jean Hersholt, Edward Connelly, Lionel Belmore, George K. Arthur, Gustav Von Seyffertitz, Edythe Chapman, and others of note.

"THE LOVELORN"

"The Lovelorn," a Cosmopolitan production featuring Sally O'Neil now at the State is an example of good story, good acting and good direction.

Beatrice Fairfax, the author, who for 15 years has conducted "Advice to the Lovelorn" columns in hundreds of different newspapers, has selected, she says, the most human and entertaining story of love and romance she has encountered during her newspaper career for this, her first screen venture.

Sally O'Neil is true to the promise of "Becky" and her early pictures that she would some day bring a new and delightful personality to a screen characterization. Her George of "The Lovelorn" will be loved and remembered. She and her sister, Molly O'Day, who by the way play sisters in real life as well as on the screen, should continue to be featured together.

Larry Kent, Allan Forrest, Charles Delaney, James Murray and George Cooper furnish support that is worthy of the story and the excellent direction of John P. McCarthy.

The BABY

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, March 6—Furs seem to remain as much a part of the fashions for the spring season as for any other. They are now an important part of the collections of the large houses and are being shown together with fresh spring frocks and filing clothes for summer.

Baby lambs in beige or gray with collar and cuffs of fox dyed to match promises to be a favorite for early spring days. A coat of Hudson seal has a collar and bands down the front of gray fox, and another of the same dark fur has a wide collar of white ermine and five full bands of the same fur on the lower part of the sleeve.

Clever working of the fur is seen in a coat of curving stripes of summer and winter ermine. A black astrakhan has striking sleeves of ermine in flaring, circular flounces. A mink coat has two large circular motifs of the skirt which are repeated on the deep cuffs.

The silhouette for daytime coats is generally made more ample at the top with exquisite shawl collars of a contrasting fur. Broadtail, seal, mink, shaver lamb, astrakhan and ermine are the most used, worked into motifs of geometric design. For evening there are lovely chinchilla capes.

Lucien Lelong is showing several charming satin cloaks with great cavalier cuffs of white fur. There is rarely a collar, and fur is seldom put about the bottom.

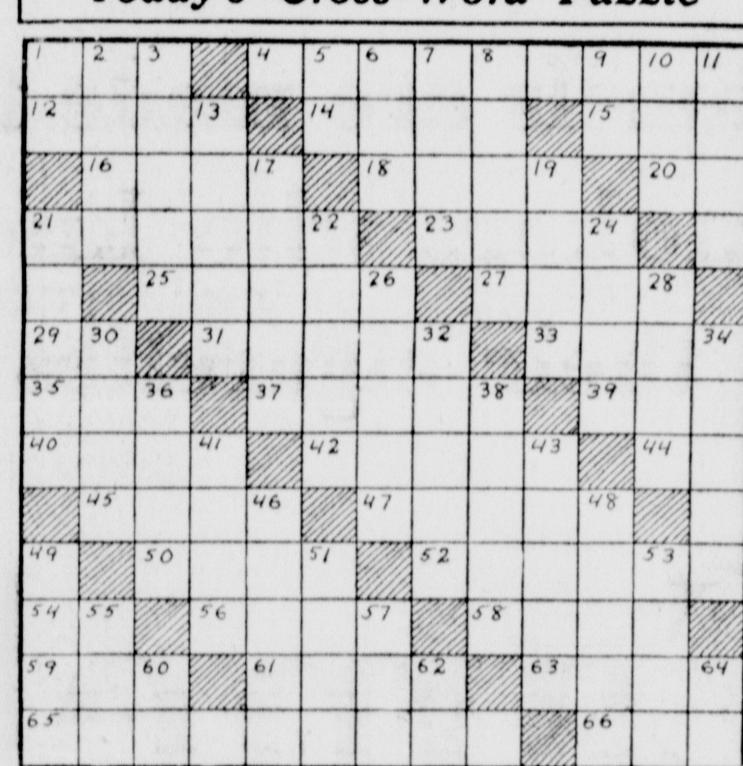

Plans Made to Widen Kensington Bridge

County Surveyor Lloyd G. Kirk has placed the estimate at $4,217 for the widening of a concrete bridge on the Lincoln Highway just west of Kensington. This bridge was erected several years ago, and does not conform to the width of the highway.

The estimate has been filed with the board of commissioners, and final action is expected to be taken within the next month on this proposed improvement.

One out of every 10 of the inhabitants of Paris is actively engaged in the dressmaking industry.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Color in tableglassware is one of the outstanding features that makes it popular. The revivals of the craft of old glass makers has brought the modern pieces forward in a new light. The delicacy of design and models copied from nations which excel in glasswork make the modern products exquisite. There are numerous copies of old Chinese crystals in figures used for lamp bases and table ornaments reproduced in color that are fascinating.

There is a diversity of the table ornaments. A delicate pink lotus of large size rises from among the green leaves and stems in a wavy base like a lake with moonlight on it. Again there is a wonderful pink flamingo, its slender black legs firmly planted on a grassy base. Candlesticks have slender black sticks with the pink feathered candle cup like the bird's feathers.

Then another fab is to have the service plates, tumblers, small glasses, candlesticks and centerpiece all to match. A table set forth in soft apple-green glass, the centerpiece of green glass decorated with garlands and ornaments in crystal is a Louis XVI basket which may be filled with maiden-hair ferns and pink roses. The fragile daintiness of the table makes it very attractive. Instead of the glass basket for the center one may use a green glass vase having the white crystal apples on its branches.

Chain store business is increasing at the rate of about 15 per cent a year and in 1927 total sales probably passed the $2,000,000,000 mark. The 1926 figure of $1,825,000,000 was 15 per cent higher than the year before, according to the commerce department. Sales of $2,500,000,000 are forecast for 1928.

Reserve board officials explained that the greater sales of chains in January were influenced by an increase in the number of stores, as

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. Adv.

And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any druggist.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Company and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1875.

well as the volume of trade handled.

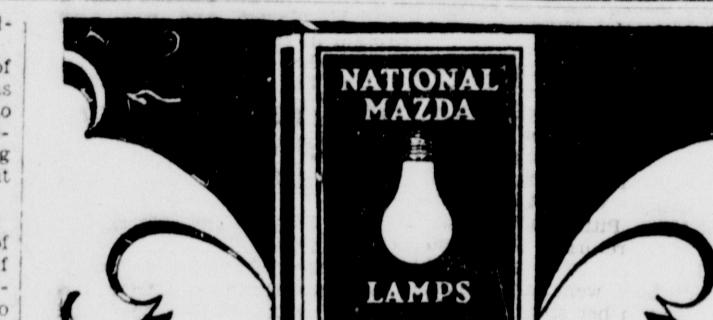

The great expansion of trade of chain stores during recent years has been owing in considerable part to the increase in the number of establishments operated by reporting systems," the commerce department said.

Beirut, Syria—An epidemic of smallpox in Syria today cut in half the Holy Land tour of 2,000 Americans when they were forbidden to land from the steamship Doric and Rotterdam. Beirut has been placed under strict quarantine. The epidemic started a fortnight ago in refugee camps. Up to March 1, 105 cases had been reported with 22 deaths.

STOP THE FAT AND GET THIN

The way to reduction is to stop the formation of fat. Modern science has found that way—by turning your food into fuel and energy—by supplying a natural element that helps do that. It is much better than starvation. That modern, scientific method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 20 years—millions of boxes of them. Now the results in slender figures, new beauty and vitality, are seen everywhere.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula, also the scientific reasons for results. So you know the effects are beneficial, and why they all occur. Learn what so many have learned in 20 years about it. Do it now. Ask your druggist for a $1 box of Marmola and learn what it means to you.

AMERICANS FLEE JAIL, SHOT DOWN

San Diego, Calif., March 6.—An inquest will be held at "Tia Juana, Mex., over the bodies of the four Americans, who were slain in a desperate battle after escaping from a jail in Ensenada, according to reports reaching here today.

Despite the strict censorship which has been clamped down along the border, reports trickled through that the bodies of the four Americans had been taken to Tia Juana and placed in the municipal coroner's office there and that Mexican officials planned an investigation into the armed encounter which resulted in their death.

The four jailbreakers, said to be deserters from the United States army, who were killed in the fray, were: Lawrence N. Thompson, Elton E. Morehouse, Russel E. Tanner and E. E. Kirby.

The battle occurred when a company of Mexican Rurales overtook the Americans as they were making a dash for the boundary. Convicted in a Mexican court of highway robbery, the four men were in the Ensenada jail, awaiting transfer to the Mexican penal colony at Tres Marias, when they escaped from the prison.

Sentimental Colors Among New Shades In Women's Clothes

London, March 6.—Six "sentimental" colors, two poetic shades of brown, a maize yellow and an Atlantic blue contribute to the 10 new colors women will wear this spring.

They are on the shade card, just issued by the combined British dyers, fabric manufacturers and dress designers. This month and next they will be seen in London shops and dress parades.

Gazelle is one of the six "sentimental" colors. It is described as a "neutral" hue, and is recommended for brides who do not care to wear the traditional white.

Other of the "sentimental" shades are "passion-flower," a soft mauve tint, "blush-rose," a lovely pink, and "blueette," a shade of blue which is understood to have met with the approval of the queen.

Leather Scarcity
Means Higher Shoe
Prices, He Warns

A. H. Geuting, president of the National Shoe Retailers Association today issued a statement to the retailers of the United States, the keynote of which was that the retail price of shoes throughout the country must inevitably advance to maintain the same quality.

Mr. Geuting pointed out that while there is a constant increase in the population of the world with an increase of 10 per cent in the last decade in the United States alone, the United States will suffer more than any other country through the scarcity of leather since in our country, the head of cattle has decreased 33 1/3 per cent.

To quote him directly, Mr. Geuting said:

"Just put two and two together and you have four. One year ago there was a visible stock of 12,000,000 hides in the United States, today the visible stock has decreased to 3,000,000.

"Demand is increasing proportionately with the increasing population here in America, but further than this, the demand is also increasing in Europe where in the poorer countries wooden shoes and shoes of straw, particularly in tropical districts, are being increasingly abandoned in favor of leather footwear.

"More than this, there is an increasing demand in the same ratio in all those trades that employ leather as raw material for the manufacture of such things as belts, bags, sport coats, sport hats and multitudinous articles of wearing apparel as well as for industrial uses."
